

The Panther

You might call it a cougar, or a mountain lion, but I call it a panther. To me the panther is the most beautiful cat in the world. Its coat is tan like the sand in the wash. Its steel are as sharp as eagles talons. They eat deer, rabbits, his horn sheep, and javelina if they're hungry. They live alone in the mountain except to mate.

They're almost as fast as a cheeta, they don't swim like tigers.
